In Memoriam

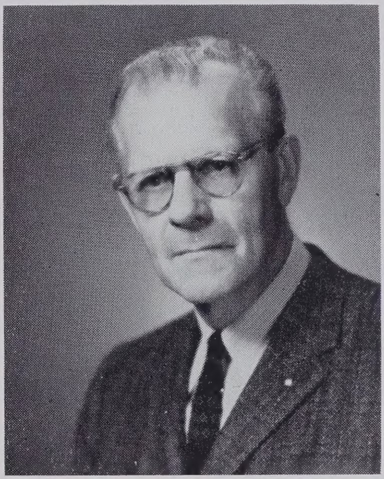
MRS. VEVA ROONEY

Faculty and students were grieved at the announcement of the death of Mrs. Veva Rooney in August, 1963. Though a relative newcomer to our faculty, her warmth and quiet efficiency won her many friends in her classes and among her colleagues. As a member of the physical education department, Mrs. Rooney taught swimming and health and also served as faculty director of cheerleaders. She will be remembered for her spirit of charity and generosity which left its mark on those who knew her, and which remains as an active tribute to her memory.

In Tribute

MISS HILDA BEAR

In her thirty-seven years of dedicated service to Washington High School, Miss Hilda Bear introduced hundreds of students to commercial careers through her teaching of shorthand, typing, and stenography. Not the least of her duties included the directorship of both the Lost and Found and the Locker Key Room. In a school of more than 2700 students, these activities demanded many hours of her time, which she gave graciously and selflessly. Washington and its pupils will long remember her devotion and effective contribution to the school.



MR. LAUREN SPRAGUE

Mr. Lauren Sprague began teaching at Washington High School in September of 1922, and in the following forty-one years he taught industrial arts and mechanical drawing to many Washington students. He also served as chairman of the industrial arts department.

Those who have known him well testify to the genuine interest which he gave to his students; the problems of "his boys" were always of personal concern to him. Washington High School is better for its association with Mr. Sprague and regrets the loss of one of its finest teachers.

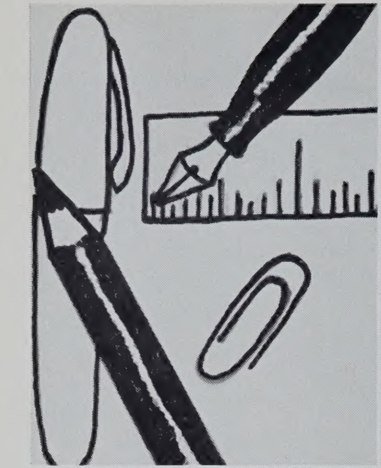
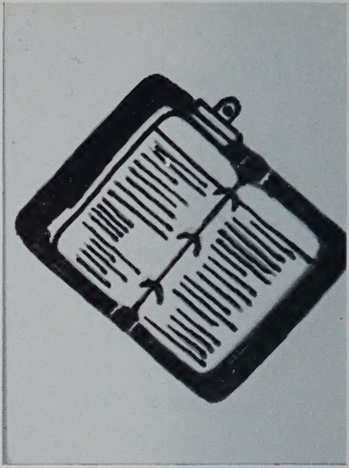
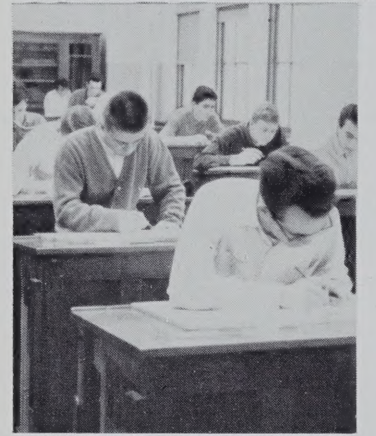
CLASSES





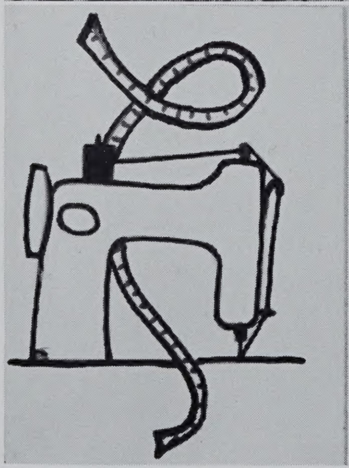


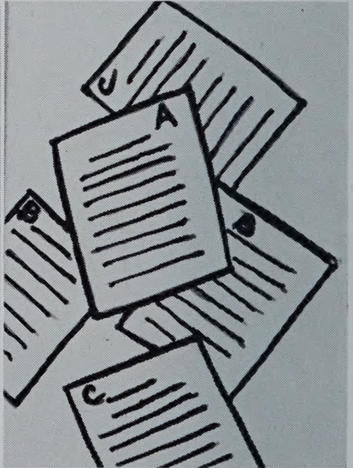
Classes

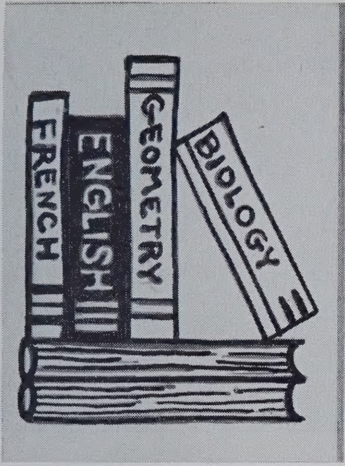
Washington's curriculum has been established to fulfill the needs of various types of students. With this in mind, the Tonian has his choice of a wide variety of subjects.

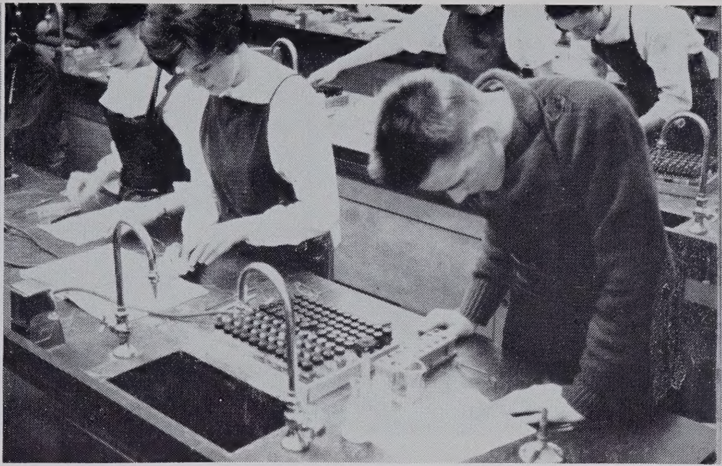
For the college bound pupil, Washington offers four years of English, science, mathematics, languages, and social studies. For the superior ability group, additional offerings include advanced courses in English, math, and science.

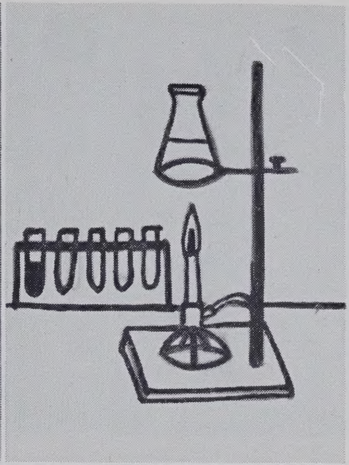
For those who plan a business career, every effort has been made to prepare them for all office requirements. New to the curriculum is a stenographic course designed for above average students.

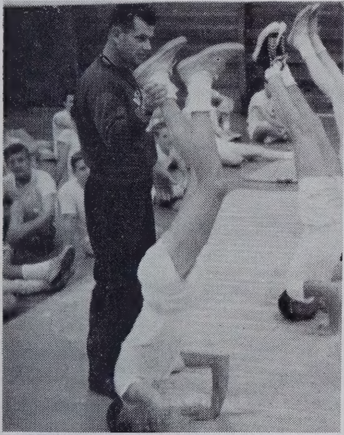


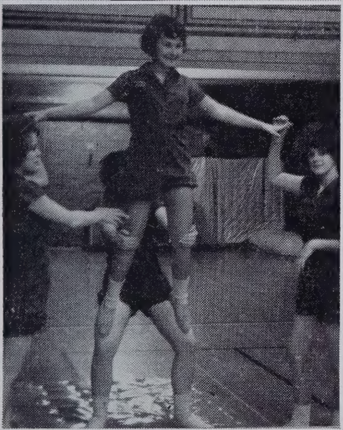












The Tonian who is skilled in working with his hands is offered shop courses and mechanical drawing, which extend through his three years.

Art and music are included in the courses offered at Washington and contribute a great deal to the cultural level of the school. Opportunities are available for auditorium programs, as well as field trips to other schools.

Rounding out the curriculum is the physical education department, with specific courses for beginners and advanced students in such areas as swimming, gymnastics, and weights.

A school is as strong as its curriculum, and Washington's schedule of classes fulfills the needs of its varied students.

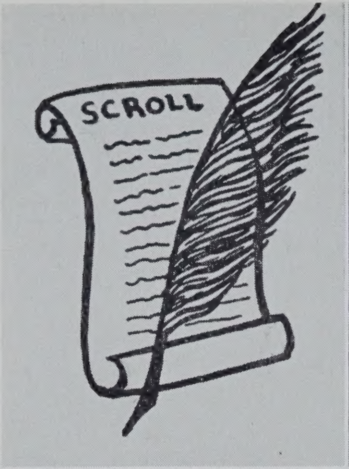
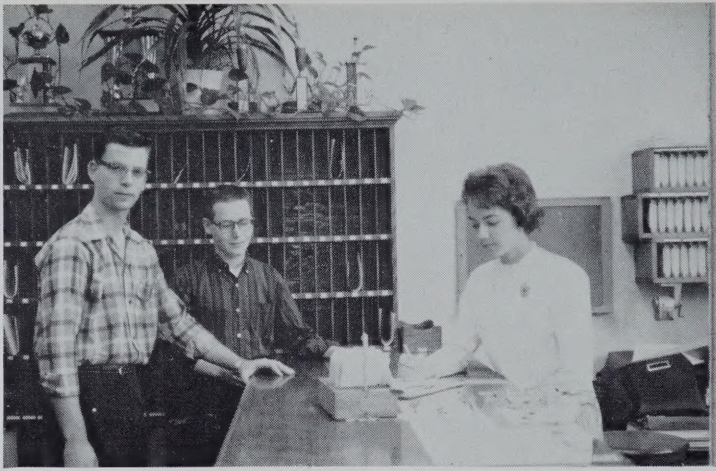
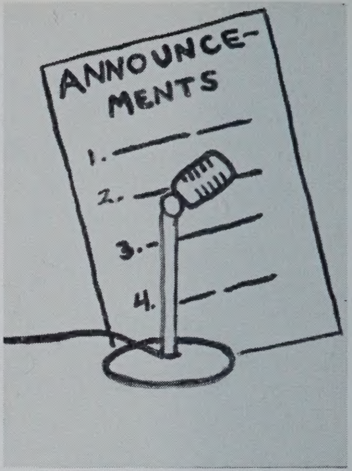
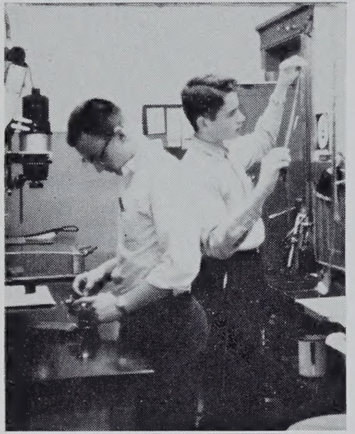
SERVICES





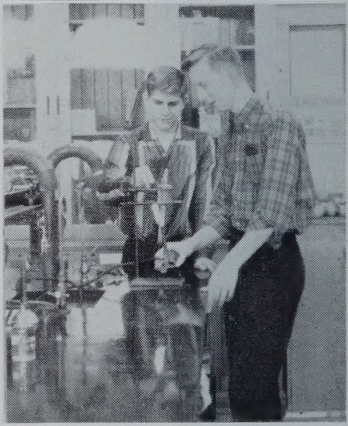


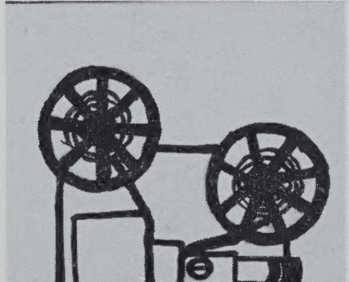


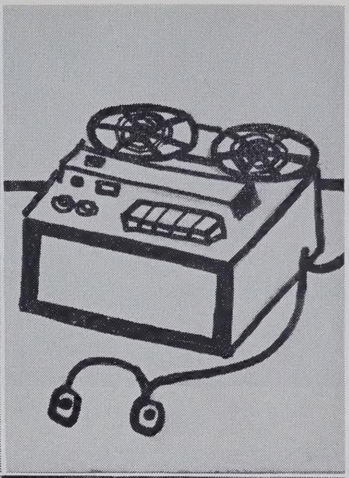
Services

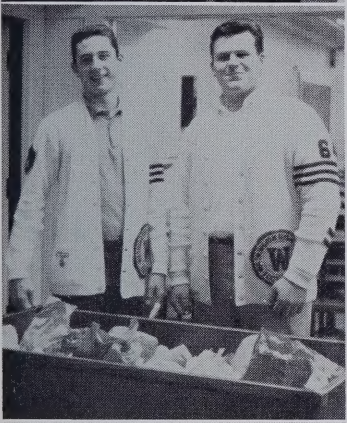
When a student joins a service program, he improves himself as well as his school, for the service departments develop responsibility, initiative, and the pride of being an active Washingtonian. While in many cases there is little public recognition, contributing students carry on their assigned work with pride and discipline.

Several organizations are composed of monitors who maintain order throughout the school. The largest group is in charge of the corridors. These students sacrifice one study period per day to keep order in the halls during class periods. Other monitors assist in the operation of the study halls. Counseling monitors and the receptionists relieve the counselors of some of their paper work. Office and vice principal's monitors handle many clerical duties.









Infirmary aides are available during every period in case a student becomes ill and needs help. Specially trained monitors are required to operate the technical equipment of the language laboratory, help students in the library, and set up experiments in the chemistry laboratories.

In addition, other service groups assist the school. For example, the photographers record many school activities on film for the school publications, and twice a day the student announcers inform the entire school of coming events.

Washington High School is proud of its tradition of student service. Those who have participated in this area of school life recognize the value of their contribution, for theirs has been the two-fold reward of assisting their school and classmates and receiving personal satisfaction and growth.

STUDENT

The Student Council serves Washington primarily through an organization of committees. It strives for positive results in every form of the work it does.

There are many Student Council-sponsored activities which have a direct effect upon the student body. These include the school dances, the student-faculty tea, and the selection of announcers for the public address system. An important committee is responsible for conducting all major elections. This committee counts the ballots cast in elections such as that of class officers and the election of the Senior Prom Court.

COUNCIL

The Student Council also works for the general improvement of the school and grounds. There is a committee for renovation of school equipment. The fluorescent lights in our classrooms were suggested by this group.

The work done by these committees is effective, though not necessarily publicized to the school. Yet each time Tonians attend a pep rally or vote in a school election, they are witnessing a project of the Student Council. Washington can be proud of the dedication that this important group gives to its school.

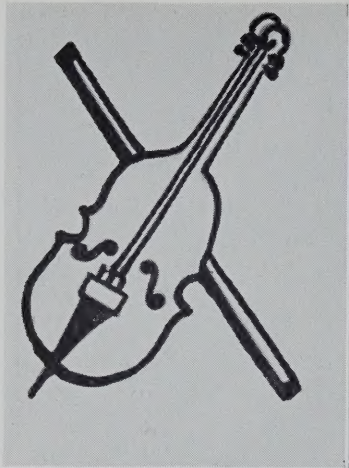
CLUBS

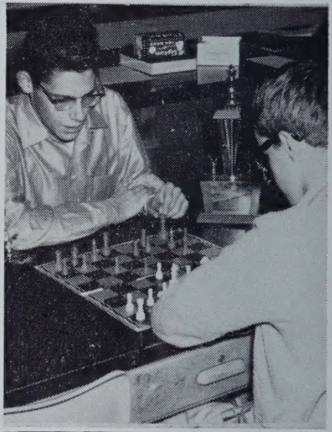


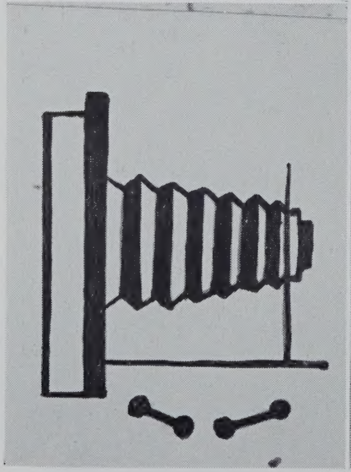
Clubs

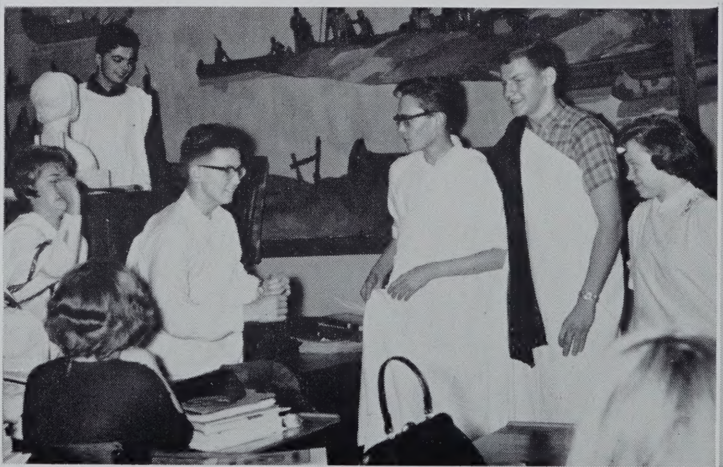
On his arrival at Washington, the student soon realizes that by joining a club he may enrich his education while serving the school. He is introduced to these organizations on New Pupils' Activity Day when he learns about the activities of the various organizations and is invited to join them.

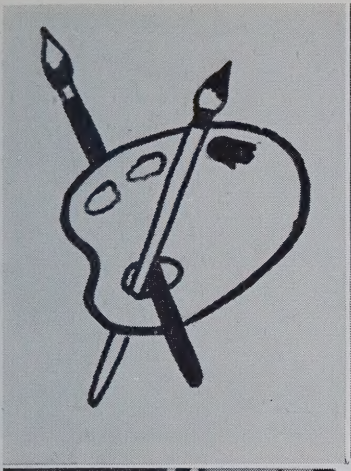
If he is interested in debates, speech-making, public reading, or parliamentary law, he may choose to join one of the three forensic societies. These groups give their members experience in these fields along with an opportunity for social development.

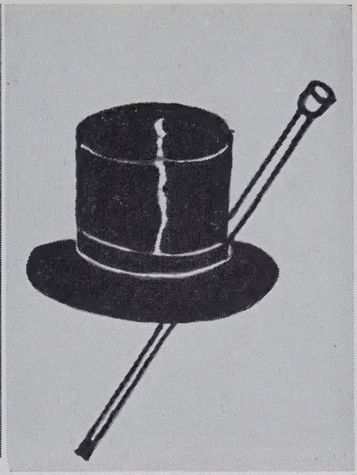
For those interested in the realm of science, the math and science clubs afford the chance to develop their abilities with friends who share their interests.

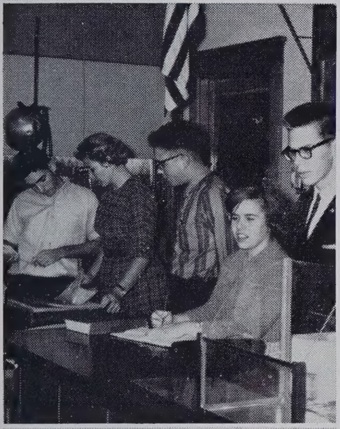


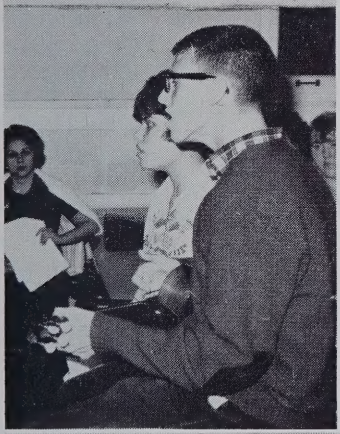












Others, who have photography or chess as a hobby, may pit their knowledge of the field in club-sponsored contests.

The language clubs offer programs of interest to all students, even those not enrolled in the specific courses. In Readers' Council discussion groups, students discuss topics of philosophy, literature, art, science, or creative writing.

Anyone inclined towards the fields of acting, writing, or stagecraft has the opportunity to express his talents through Players or Toppers. These organizations combine various talents in several ways.

Regardless of the field, extra-curricular activities serve Washington and its students through added knowledge and voluntary participation.

SOCIETAS LATINA

Societas Latina was organized in 1927 and since then has grown into Washington's largest club with an enrollment of 250 members. During the early years of its existence, the club's programs consisted of Latin plays and songs. The roll call, then included in the meeting, was taken in Latin. The club members discussed the lives of famous Romans and held mock activities in the manner of the ancients.

Today the roll call has been dropped because of the size of the club, but the group does continue to put on skits adapted from famous Roman and Greek literature. Latin songs are a frequent part of today's meetings, and in addition the group presents original playlets created by members and often has contests when it desires new material. Posters illustrating Latin expressions are posted on the Latin Club bulletin board outside the library. Each year the group also participates in a joint meeting with Washington Players which features a classical skit dramatized by the members of both organizations.

Washington's Latin Club, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Levin, has attracted students from the entire school regardless of language background. Its varied activities have made it one of the most popular organizations at Washington.

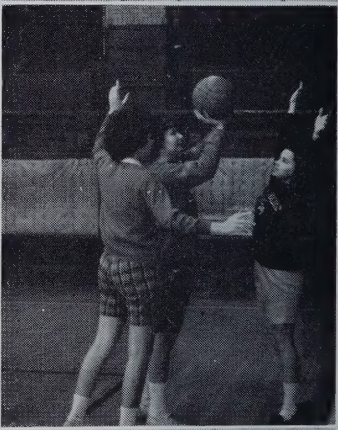
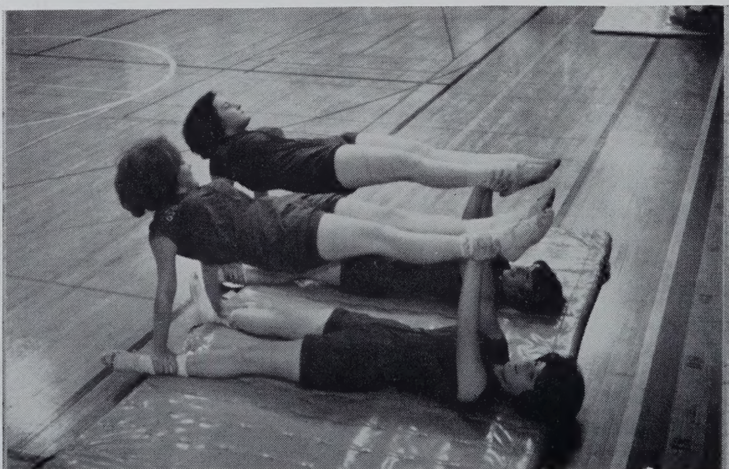
Sports

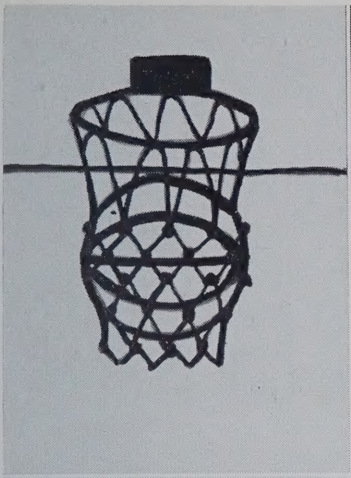
The trophies and team photographs on display throughout the halls of our school serve as material proof of Washington's success in athletics. In its fifty-two years, Washington High school has developed a tradition of high calibre teams.

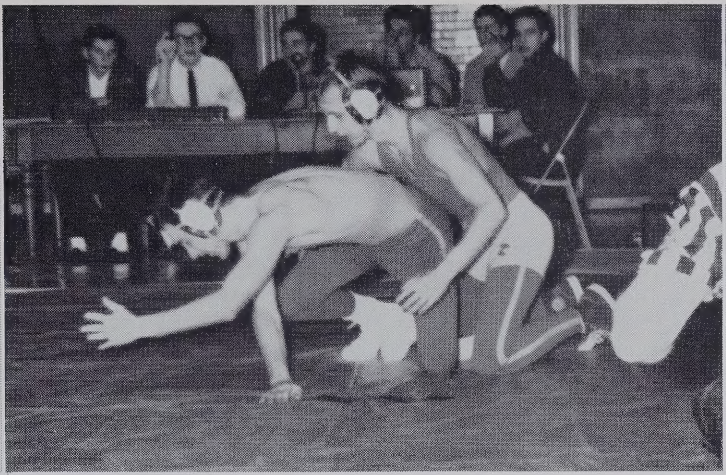
However, athletics means much more than championships. The challenge of competition and good sportsmanship is given to the members of Washington's teams. Through their participation in athletics, the boys have grown in self-reliance and character. Working toward a common goal as teammates, many boys have formed enduring friendships.

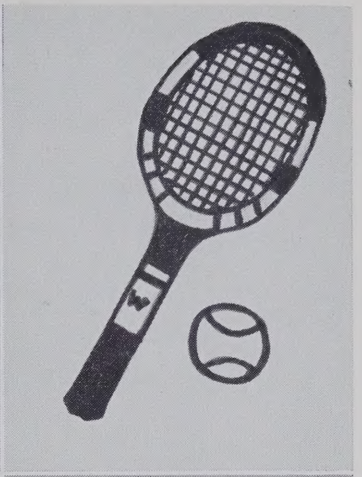
Washington maintains diversity in the gyms as well as in the classrooms. Besides the major sports, gymnastics and intramurals are offered, enabling all to participate in sports.











In gymnastics, boys learn how to use various pieces of apparatus, and at intramurals they can swim, wrestle, or engage in other activities. The girls participate in basketball, volleyball, tumbling, and other sports through the G.A.A.

The various games and meets in which Washington participates also give the student body a chance to support their school. There is a strong spirit of school loyalty at our games. The stands are led in their yells by the cheerleaders, and the drill team presents marching formations during many of the halftimes. The enthusiasm which is shown at Washington's games is perhaps an even greater tribute to the teams than the many trophy cases in our halls. This enthusiasm is exceeded only by the fine record of sportsmanship displayed by the entire student body.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Cross Country team was a picture of balance and teamwork. Having no real stars to speak of, the team was nevertheless able to beat out North for the City Meet, despite the fact that four members of North's team placed in the top ten. With seven of nine lettermen returning, Washington's hill-and-dalers again should be a top contender in the City race.

FOOTBALL

Starting off with a bang, the Purgold gridmen easily overwhelmed West 32-12, although this fine performance was not typical of the season as a whole. At times the team showed its potential by outplaying a favored team as in the Tech and Custer games, while at other times they were defeated by lesser foes. The team, however, finished with a 5-3 record placing them 4th in the City Conference.

At the end of the season, Doug West was named to the first team and Carl Neubauer, Tom Wood, and Ron Carlson to the second team in All-City selections. Nine emblems were awarded to underclassmen.

Because of rowdyism, all games after the first week-end were rescheduled for Saturday afternoons. Despite an abrupt drop-off in attendance, next year's games will also be played on Saturday afternoons.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team put together a winning season in spite of overwhelming odds against them. Entering the season with only one returning letterman, the prospect of a victorious season was dim. Losing the first game by a wide margin certainly did not improve the outlook. Then, improving with each game, the cagemen bounced back with seven straight wins attaining second place in the process. At mid-year graduation the team lost three regulars. Because of the fine 7-1 record which was built up during the first semester, the team was able to finish in fifth place with a victorious season.

WRESTLING

Suffering from a lack of experience, the wrestling team had a rough time competing with the other, more experienced city schools. A twelfth weight-class was added to wrestling this year at the ninety-five pound level. Carl Neubauer was one of the team's best entries, but mid-year graduation prevented him from competing in post season tournaments. This year's sophomore team won second place honors in the North side tournament.

SWIMMING

With only three returning lettermen, the swimming team faced an uphill battle all the way. The losses in the dual meets were due to a lack of depth in many events. The team did place fairly well in the City Meet, however. The best performances of the season were turned in by Captain-elect Tom Schuch in the 50 and 100 yard free style, Captain Svend Ryge in the breast stroke, and Bob Hennecke, mid-year graduate, who was undefeated in diving.

TENNIS

The 1963 tennis team again took the City Conference championship with an undefeated season. Out of a total of 48 matches, the team lost only two. Outstanding as an individual was Captain Bruce Fraser, who won the City singles championship. All three singles entries — Fraser, Phil Ruehl, and Neal Pollack — were undefeated in twelve league matches. The 1964 squad kept up the fine traditional championship standard of previous years.

GOLF

Beginning the season with a well balanced team, the Purgold green-goers won 14 matches. With hopes riding high for a conference championship, the team took second in the City Meet. Keeping up their high standard of play, the team took 3rd in the Round Robin, missing 2nd by a half point. Returning this season to form a sound foundation are Bob Powers, Blacky Peters, and a fine B-Team, which placed 2nd in the City. Another good season is expected from the golf squad.

TRACK

The 1963 track team achieved first place in the City Relays, second in the City Indoor, and third in the City Meet. There were a number of fine individual performances. Bruce Fraser set a new record in the mile with the time of 4:27.1, and Ron Carlson set a record in the discus with 158′ 8½″. At the beginning of the 1964 season, the prospects for a good year seemed to rest largely on the distances, hurdles, and weights, where the team appeared to have its greatest depth. Although there was a lack of lettermen and experienced performers, it was offset by a fine sophomore nucleus.

BASEBALL

The 1963 baseball team went from a mediocre start to a great finish. Climaxing the season by winning their last five games, the team was able to tie Bay View for the title with a 17-7 record. The team's success was due to a well-balanced effort by every player. The prospects for the 1964 season are high with the return of twelve-game winner Dave Wozny, and Dan Schrinsky, Captain-elect, who led the league in five batting categories.

The Girls' Athletic Association offers Washington's girls the opportunity to participate in bowling, volleyball, golf, apparatus, basketball, swimming, and badminton.

Under the direction of Mrs. Carol Miller and Miss Joyce Klarner, the girls added an apparatus group to the year's activities, which met on Monday nights to work on different stunts and exercises.

Each member's active participation is recorded, and the graduating senior with the highest number of points is named the gold medal winner. Those who excel are listed as high point girls.

SENIORS

FROM CLASS OF 1964

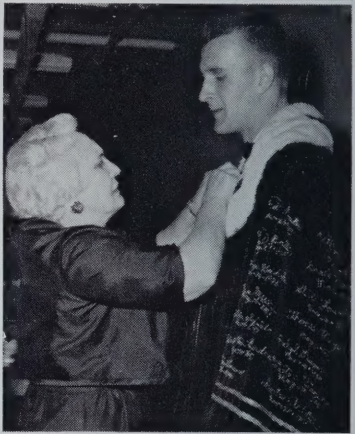
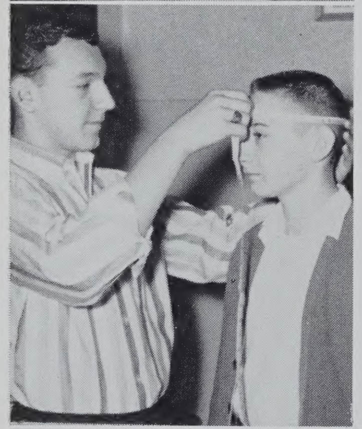
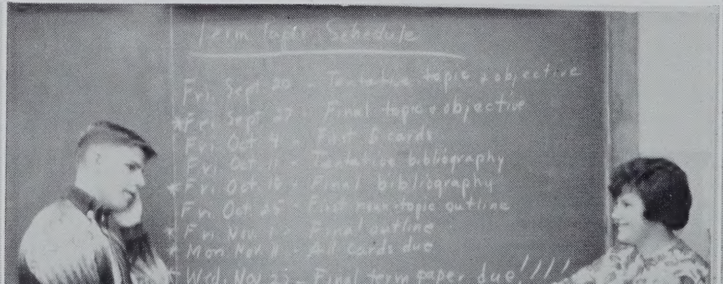
Seniors

The senior differs from the other students of a school in several ways. He is more aware of how close graduation and college really are. Never before has he had so many forms and applications to fill out. Never before has he felt the importance of examinations until he takes the ACT and SAT tests. The senior must investigate colleges and scholarship opportunities more intently than the lower classmen. In other words, a student's senior year is the summing up of all his high school work; it is a tally of his past, which can control his future.

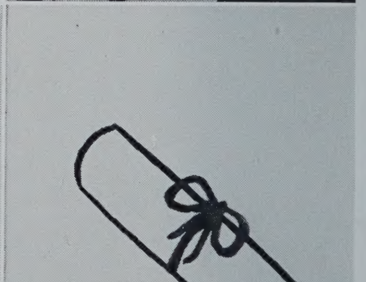
The senior finds new challenges in his classes. There are more advanced subjects to be taken, and he must meet requirements more rigid than in previous years. And, of course, no senior ever forgets the all important termpaper, which is the mark of his last year of English.

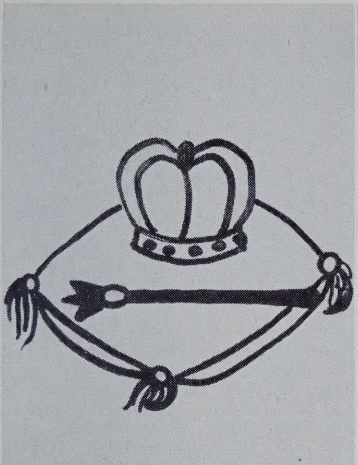


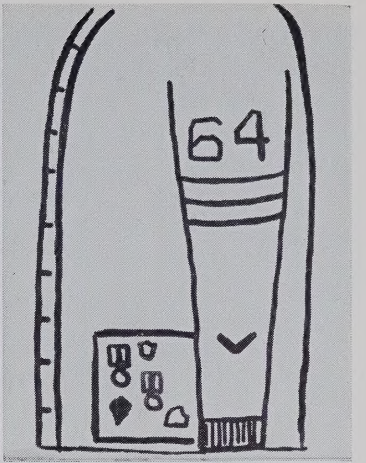


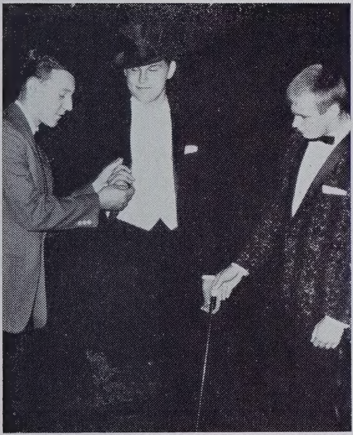


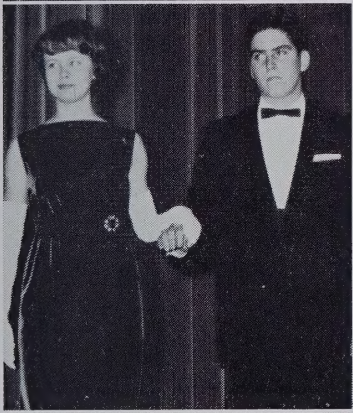
Term Paper Schedule
Fri. Sept 20 - Tentative topic & objective
Fri. Sept 27 - Final topic & objective
Fri. Oct 4 - First 5 cards
Fri. Oct 11 - Tentative bibliography
Fri. Oct 18 - Final bibliography
Fri. Oct 25 - First topic outline
Fri. Nov 1 - Final outline
Mon. Nov 8 - All cards due
Wed. Nov 25 - Final term paper due!!!!











The senior also has the major problem of deciding which picture should be put in the Yearbook — the smiling or the serious. Several conferences must be held with both parents and friends before the final choice is doubtfully returned to the studio.

Many activities are scheduled specifically for the graduating seniors. Clubs organize special programs in their honor to recognize those who have contributed to the advancement of their clubs and their school. Several organizations give mixers for their graduating members. The seniors also have many preparations to make for the graduation ceremony itself, including the taking of cap and gown measurements and the attendance at rehearsals for the big event. However, what is past is prologue, and the Washington graduate can advance to his next objective with the confidence of having acquired a successful high school education.

Couples dance to the music of the orchestra. The gold dragon on the wall glitters until it almost seems to move in the dimmed light. The Royal Court impresses the audience with its pageantry and flourish. A Japanese bridge arches near decorative fish nets. Capturing scenes to renew memories in the future, photographers apply their skills to cameras. Oriental Enchantment transforms this one evening of the semester into a charming and magic time.

First Row: Blackburn Peters, Candace Johnson, Eileen Alt, Leslie Leffingwell.

Couples pass over a drawbridge to enter the Royal Court. The shields of Arthur's knights line the walls, and regal shades of blue, gold, and white surround the chamber. In a hushed silence, the king and queen enter, with their court in attendance. Entertainment is begun with a flourish of trumpets. This is Camelot, where rain is banned by law. Here, for a short time, its rulers reign in the happy court of the senior prom.

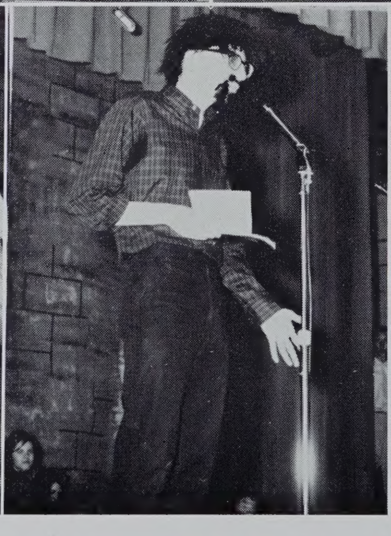
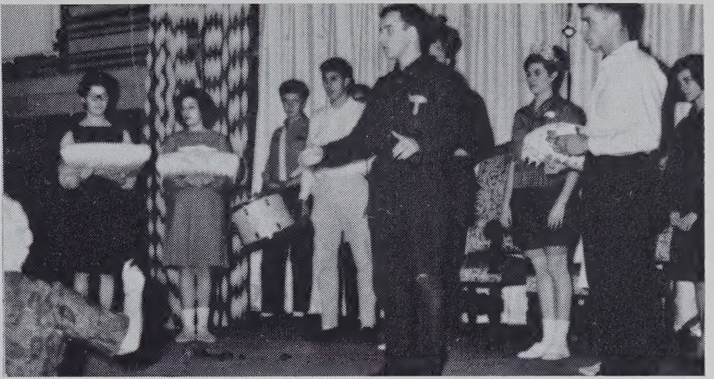
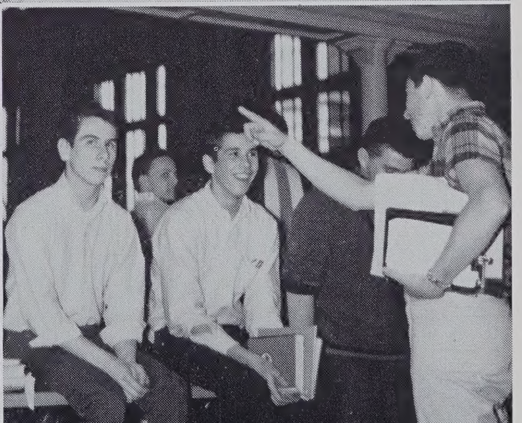
Life at Washington does not revolve around studies alone. Tonians cherish those memories of games, programs, and pep rallies that add so much to their high school years. While the day officially begins at 8:15, many Tonians have been hard at work by the time that first bell rings. There are a number of activities and duties that require an early start. For example, members of Toppers and Players frequently rehearse before homeroom, and dance decorations require an early start. Prom court rehearsals are usually held before school because of the demand for after-school time.

WASHINGTON
BEAT LINCOLN







The regular school day begins with the homeroom period. While some students prepare for their classes, other Tonians who are members of the student council or another school organization may be meeting. Auditorium assemblies are also held during the homeroom period. Pep rallies, Girls' and Boys' Clubs, and professional programs all provide an interesting start to the school day. Other programs give recognition awards to Washington's athletes and school leaders. Many senior activities, such as class meetings and cap and gown measurements, are conducted during homeroom.

When the bell rings at 8:35, students begin their regular class work. Homework is corrected and analyzed and new assignments are recorded. Students get a start on their work in the study halls. The one interruption in school routine is lunch, when the cafeteria resounds with discussions and laughter and relaxation. However, the lunch period must eventually give way to the afternoon classes, and both students and teachers return to the work at hand.

The 3:28 bell signals the start of another phase of Washington life. — The extracurricular activities. These include clubs, student-faculty teas, and occasionally a hootenanny.

Tonians find release from the strain of schoolwork in their participation at school games. There in the stands they have a chance to vent their excess emotions in the excitement of cheering and actions. Washington High School's over-all program of education extends even to the stadium bleachers, where friendship and school loyalty grow through sports. Whether wrestling or football, baseball or swimming, a sports event is an exciting experience for both participants and spectators. Some of the happiest memories will include memorable games and athletic events.

The lights of Washington burn bright on the special nights of the dances. These include the Holly Hop, with its Santa Claus and Christmas tree, and the Springtime, with the emphasis on pastel gowns and handsome dates. The November and May proms give Tonians the opportunity to appear in formal dress, and furnish each graduating class with moments to remember. The ultimate night, of course, is the graduation ceremony itself, when three years of hard work culminate in the cherished diploma.

Francene —

It sure has been nice during Chemistry hasn't it?? I'm sure glad that I met you — you're a real sweet girl!!

I hope your senior year will be as much fun as mine was.

Best of luck in everything you do.

God Bless You —

Nancy Spindler

Franny,

I've known you since Jr. High & its been fun. Sorry if you got wet in Chem. this semester. Have fun this summer.

Ginny
Parker

Francine,
I'm sure glad I got to know you, kid.
How else would I have ever gotten those answers in Chemistry. Have alot of fun this summer and I'll see you back at the old grind next fall Marilyn

Franie Baby, You're a great girl I really mean it. It's too bad that we don't get together more often.
I really wish we could,
(we can you know).
I hope that we will be friends for a long time to come and our friendship will continue to grow stronger and stronger as the years go by. I wish you all the luck that the future has in store for you (a husband, children) and later you'll be a grandmother, (I look far into the future). Best of luck
Molly

Francine:
German's done! (for me anyway!) It was fun knowing you. Best wishes to a very smart girl! Laurel Sitaro

Francine-
Just think! We've finally escaped from Stamm's clutches! Have fun this summer.
Janice Feierabend

Fran,
It's been real fun getting to know you in German class. Hope that you always stay as sweet as you are.
Judy
Roth

Fran—I've known you for a long time now, & I've never regretted it. Hope we can always be friends. Luck always,
Bobbi Silverstein

Dear Francine;
You deserve the best - make sure you get it! Good luck always! Love, Kathy Nagy
P.S. - Remember to keep your shoes on!

Francine—
I've enjoyed having you sit near me in English this year
Have fun this summer & see ya next year! Karen Olson

Fran Good going in that chem class
Keep it up always Good Luck
Frank Kilis

Francine,
To a real swell
girl in my German class.
Have fun this summer and I hope I'll see you next semester.
Good luck in the future.
Fred

Francine,
You probably thought you wouldn't see me after last semester. Why is it we always have to share the worst classes together. I hope that I.B.M. machine can improve our chances. Best wishes always for a bright future filled with happiness. Have a wonderful summer, and never change that sweet disposition of yours.
Mary Yonke

P.S. Good luck with your job-hunting!

Francine, To a real sweet girl who I have known through gym & swim. Have Lots of fun this summer
Best Wishes - Love & Luck,
Sherry

Francine,
you're one of the people who made Perchonok's glass bearable. Have a nice summer — I'll see you in the fall, but I hope not in Seymor's class. Love, Margaret

To Francine, a fellow swimmer. May you have a wonderful summer and go swimming often now that you know how to swim?? May you Have the best of luck,
Love,
Sue Griffin

Francine-
To a girl who is a fellow German sufferer and who hates Stamm almost as much as I do (if that's humanly possible).
Good luck always-
Nancy Mack CH

To the smartest girl in my Algebra class (you're smart because you didn't take the exam), and the smartest girl in my English class last semester (you're smart because you changed teachers),

Have fun this summer and I'll see you in the fall.
Best of luck always Mary

Fran Lots of luck in future pursuits. Have a blast this summer —
Try swimming!
Marilyn Horowitz

Francine-
It's been a riot knowing you in Perchonok's class. Always be a mathematical wiz and you'll be great!
Fun always,
Larry

Francine,
To the lucky girl ~~to~~ who has been in the same German class with me, and the lucky girl who got out of Steiger's English class.
See you in September,
Good Luck,
Bob Gresen

Fran,

To a girl whom I had the extreme pleasure of knowing for quite awhile. Altough we had some disagrements everything usually worked out wonderfully. I hope that I will be seeing alot of you this summer. Maybe we can ty try our hand at tennis again. By this summer we should be able to hit the ball. (I hope) Since you are going to summer school we can walk to school together. I hope we can visit the beach alot more then we did last summer. I really hope that you join Young Judea. It should really become interesting with its new officers. Maybe we can get some good old socials going. I hope that you get a summer job. Speaking of summer jobs I could use one myself. Oh Well. If everything turns out the way I want it to, this should really be an interesting summer. I might as well say the usual, here goes; Lots of luck in everything you may attempt. Kidding aside I really mean it. You probably don't need it anyway.

Your friend always,

Bessie K.

Francine

To a real nice girl who I've known since the good old days of Steuben Have fun this summer and stay as nice as you are. Good Luck and Best Wishes always.

Your Friend
Sue Hull

Fran,
It's been a pleasure knowing you these past few years. Good luck next year and all the years that follow. Hope to see you a lot in the fall. Have fun this summer.

Jean Wolf

Hi! Fran!
Your a real wonderful girl! Good Luck to you in everything you do. Hope to get to know you better in the future. Well, bye for now -

Love,
Sally Horowitz

Francine, Homeroom has really been fun again this year. Best of luck in the future. Any time you want to read the SCROL, just ask me.
Steve

Francie You're real sweet stay that way
Mary Sue McDonough

Francine-
To one of the smartest German students around. Always remember our cool club. Good luck

Francin:
It's been swell to know you and walk home from school with. Keep on your diet, you are looking great. You are the only girl I know who has a peaches and cream complexion. Boy do you have the advantages over the other girls. Good luck with that immature opposite sex.
Your friend,
Helen Lebin
(Known as Hell)

Francine
To a good friend of my rotten sister. and a friend of mine. Good luck.
With your grades you don't need it.
Goldie

Francine,
we've known each other for 3½ years. we had good days and bad days but I think we had More Good days than bad. You're a very sweet person when you want to be So just want to be and everything will turn out peaches and sugar On top of it. Good Luck in what every you want to achieve. So have the grandest summer you've had yet. Good Luck again
Love
Rivka

Francine, To a very wonderful swimmer like me.
If we ever learn it will be a miracle.
Have fun this summer and maybe I'll see you next year.

Linda Scantlin

Dear Fran Too bad we didn't see each other this semester.
Maybe next semester.
Have fun this summer, and I wish you the best of luck, life, and love
Love,
Barbie-Doll
(remember that francie-Pie?)

Francine,
To a real nice kid who had the pleasure (??) of suffering thru German II with good 'ole Stamm.
Have fun this summer and be good.
Love & luck,
Sharon

Dear Francine,
Best of everything, always.
Carol
